Door Leaf

W: 120 cm; H: 220 cm

Hall 4

Inv. no. 1048

Door leaf with a central panel composed of a repeating mafruka pattern, constructed through joinery. Closely related to the Greek hooked-cross meander, this pattern is characteristic of Cairene Ottoman woodwork, though it appears earlier in Mamluk contexts. The use of contrasting timbers enlivens the surface while drawing attention to the skill invested in a deceptively simple geometric design.
