Openwork Panel

Fatimid, 5th century AH / 11th century CE

W: 5.5 cm; H: 10.5 cm

Inv. no. 14110

Openwork panel carved in varying levels of relief, featuring two elegantly affronted bird heads that together form a heart shape, surmounted by a trefoil arch. The Museum's collection includes two similarly rendered birds, both registered under Inv. No. 4800 and dated to the 11th century (5th century AH).
